2022

EDITORIAL

Dear customers

First, I would like to thank you for your preference for THClothes. It is with great satisfaction that I observe the continuous growth of the brand over these 14 years. The constancy of the values that have guided us, our bet on the differentiation of cuts, on certified quality and fair price, has proved to be a winning strategy over these years and that we have been very proud of.

Keeping the brand's expansion strategy, in this year of 2022, we launched dozens of new colours in existing items, 2 items now with a women's version and 6 totally new items, bets that reinforce our offer in the promotional market.

We also started the year with a new layout and software in our warehouse in Portugal, an investment made throughout 2021 and, whose objective is to optimize our shipments and reinforce the quality of the level of service we offer.

In terms of digital marketing, we maintain our commitment to a strategy of diversification of means of communication and optimization of digital tools, in order to provide the best THClothes experience for everyone who visits our platforms.

I say goodbye, thanking you again for your preference for THClothes and I wish you a year full of health and success.

Mauro Silva
CEO

BRAND OVERVIEW

TH Clothes was born in 2006 with the creation of its logo and the first products, the Delta sweatshirt. The brand appears on the market in order to address the need to provide certified quality products at a fair price. From 2010 to 2015, the brand has grown exponentially in the Portuguese market and has designed 16 new products.

2015 was also the year of internationalization of the brand that already has sales to 12 countries in Europe. 2016 was a big year for TH Clothes. The brand presented 37 new products, seeking to satisfy their customers' needs at all levels. Because it needed to consolidate and expand, TH Clothes bet in 2017 on strengthening its permanent stock, doubling it, with approximately 6 million articles ready to ship in 24 hours for the national market and in 2 to 5 days for the European market, with sales to 27 countries. It presented 2 new articles relevant to market niches that considered to be essential.

In 2018, it reinforced its permanent stock, intensified its range of colours in a sustained way and introduced 5 new articles that it considered essential in the promotional markets. In this same year, become a member of the Fair Wear Foundation, a commitment that confirms its collaboration with the manufacturers for a constant improvement in working conditions.

In 2019, the brand sought to revolutionize its range of colours introducing 10 new colours in the main articles of its most important ranges, with special highlight to the 6 pastel colours. It also presented 7 new articles endowed with premium design in order to respond effectively to the demands of the markets and also to maintain its modern and cosmopolitan image.

In the year of 2020, TH Clothes created its own range of workwear with 6 new items plus a unique sweatshirt, in order to reinforce its position to respond to different market demands, maintaining the singular touch of design, elegance and usability. In the same year, the COVID-19 worldwide pandemic dictated the transformation of society in a way never seen before and, to this new reality, the brand responded with the creation of THC Atlântida and THC Atlântida Kids, approved with the CITEVE level III seal against Covid-19.

In 2021, launched THC Rodrigo, the brand's first sneaker and the only on the market with removable and customizable patches.

It was also the first year of the Less Plastic initiative, an action that intends to significantly reduce the consumption of plastic in brand transactions and which proceeds in 2022.

At a technological level, 2021 was a year of important investments for the brand. A strong bet on more efficient logistics from 2022, with the restructuring of the main warehouse in Portugal through a new layout and intelligent software, which allows faster and more assertive shipments. A new faster website, with a modern, intuitive design and new functions, as well as a new institutional page on the social network LinkedIn® to get closer to its customers and partners.

For 2022 there is a strong focus on accessories and colours. Dozens of new colours in existing items, 2 female versions of items hitherto for men and 6 totally new items.

ATELIER STYLING PROJECT BY PEDRO CRISPIM

This year, the creative production of the TH Clothes 2022 Catalogue was in charge of Atelier Styling Project by Pedro Crispim. Directed by the hand of Pedro Crispim, the team produced all the outdoor photos near iconic spaces of Lisbon's modern architecture, such as Parque das Nações, Vasco da Gama Bridge and the Champalimaud Foundation. Under the motto "TH Clothes a Portuguese brand, a company with a past, present and a vision for the future, the campaign intended to underline the inclusive and conscious side of the brand, as well as the fact that it continues to take Portugal across borders. The final point of the campaign is the future, at a time when the world hopes for a better horizon. The architectural spaces with clean and avant-garde lines will serve as a "blank canvas" for the colours, design and textures of the articles, as well as for the compositions of the looks" (Pedro Crispim).

OUR FOUNDATIONS

PORTUGUESE DNA

TH Clothes has been building a path full of successes and its recognition in the European markets is already a reality. Like our ancestors, we are committed to conquering the world, leveraged by our perseverance, resilience and conviction that what we are building is something that fully reflects the Portuguese DNA, once a people full of determination and unshakeable beliefs, likewise the “Descobrimentos” era. TH Clothes is growing to be one of the references in promotional markets and it was precisely these values that cemented its range of articles and the global set of tools that we made available to our customers. The growth in both domestic and international markets reflects this and reveals that the focus on quality, elegance, detail and differentiation has been and will continue to be right.

IMAGINED & DESIGNED IN PORTUGAL

The Portuguese DNA is well recognized in the world of textiles. Its success story dates back to the sixteenth century with construction of the sails used by Portuguese ships. Since that time, the quality of construction and the design of Portuguese brands is appreciated all over the world. Today, the Portuguese textiles mean flexibility, speed, consolidated knowledge and innovation. Based on these assumptions, TH Clothes continues the strong focus on product quality and extending its ranges towards a future marked by differentiation and added value at various levels. In 2020, the brand again showed clear signs that the bet on items of exemplary elegance and uniqueness is to maintain, introducing a workwear collection and a new sweatshirt. For 2021 created a unique footwear article, THC Rodrigo, designed for the promotional sector and this year up the ante with 8 new products and enriches the range of new colours in bestsellers.

CERTIFICATIONS

In 2018, TH Clothes became a member of the FAIR WEAR Foundation. This commitment means respecting its code of labour practices based on 8 internationally recognized standards: free choice of work, non-discrimination in employment, fighting child labour, freedom of association and collective bargaining, fair wages, reasonable working hours, hygiene and safety at work and legally recognized contractual relations of employment.

TH Clothes have always assumed a commitment to quality and innovative design combined with the best price. The proof of that is getting the OEKO TEX Standard 100 certificate, which aims to the excellence in the use of controlled substances free of health hazards, as well as non-use of substances prohibited by law. Obtaining this certificate is a worldwide synonym for responsible textile manufacturing and a guarantee for the industry, trade and consumers.

LESS PLASTIC

THIS IS NOT JUST AN ACTION,
IT IS A STANDING!

TH CLOTHES TAKES ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY VERY SERIOUSLY.

Committed to reducing the consumption of plastic in our businesses, our first step began with reducing the individual plastic used in the packaging of some of our best-selling products. Polos, sweatshirts and t-shirts are now packaged with 1 single plastic bag enclosing the entire contents of the box. We also abolished the plastic straps on the boxes of these products, yet another measure that reinforces our commitment to environmental responsibility throughout our chain of transactions.

T-SHIRT T-YOU

T-shirts are still the preferred garment for most people. They have a flawless style and are always fashion. Furthermore, they are comfortable and practical. Also in the promotional market the t-shirt is, these days, the most used vehicle by brands to create visibility. About 76% of custom promotional textiles are t-shirts. Increasingly, custom t-shirts are stylish and everyone wants to show them.

The Luanda t-shirt was created as Mauro Silva's tribute to his homeland. Like the Angolan metropolis, the t-shirt features several influences in terms of design, and is the result of the experience gained during the years of contact with the promotional market.

COOL SWEATS

Sweatshirts have been a part of our daily lives for decades. They are the perfect piece of clothing for different environments and purposes. Their heating capacity, comfort and versatility are perfect features to make them an important part of many uniforms. On the other hand, these same features also make them desirable for less formal and more relaxed environments. For a very cool style, just wear it with jeans or shorts. Many designers often have new versions of sweatshirts in their autumn/ winter collections, making them a must-have of the season. The hooded version dates back to the style introduced in medieval Europe by the monks in their work abroad. In New York, workers wore them in lower temperature environments. The success of the hood was confirmed later in 1970 with the explosion of Hip-Hop and urban culture. Today, its success is reflected by the widespread use in many different environments and sports, from festivals to extreme sports.
